BRAVE LITTLE FELLOW

Now Has an Excellent We will give One Hundred Dol-Chance for Recovery.

Seven Year Old Owen Blue Narrowly Escaped Being Killed in the Hocking Valley Yards.

Owen Blue, aged seven years, was run over by part of a southbound Hocking Valley freight train, about o'clock Monday afternoon, losing both of his legs. The accident happened in the yards north of Silver street, while the little fellow was on his way home from school. He is a child of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Blue, of Toledo avenue. From the time that the accident happened the lad exhibited remarkable nerve, never once making complaint of the awful suffering which he must have undergone. The fireman on the train, looking back from he engine cab, saw the boy trying to crawl from beneath the train. The train was stopped and the injured lad was taken on board and carried to the Union Station. The mangled stubs of his little legs were roughly bandaged and he was made as comfortable as possible in the baggage room, while Hess & Markert's ambulance was summoned. He was then taken to the Dr. C. E. Sawyer sanatorium, where his limbs were amputated. In the meantime, word was sent to the boy's father, who is employed in the quarries at Owens, and the operation was not performed un-

First Idea of the Telegraph. Long before Prof. S. F. B. Morse had perfected his great invention the word "telegraph" was used for a sort of semaphore. In the French revolution a "telegraph," assisted by tele scopes, was devised to carry news over immense distances. Forty years before this time, however, there was published the first detailed scheme for communication by means of electricity. It is outlined in a letter to the Scots magazine, written February 1, 1753. from Renfrew and signed "C. M." This suggestion was to transmit a "charge from the conductor of an electrical machine at the sending station along an insulated wire to the receiving ma chine, the presence of the charge be-ing indicated by the behavior of a light pith ball or the passage of a spark." Each letter of the alphabet was to have a separate wire, so that any word might be spelled out and any message sent.

"Time, the Great Healer."

A doctor who had treated a patient for a long time without giving relief finally wrote to him that he could do no more, and that tempus edax rerum was the only remedy. The patient im-mediately went to a drug store and applied for the remedy. The druggist gave him a bottle of some kind of mixture and charged bim a large sum for it. After the patient had taken the compound for some time he met his doctor and thanked him for the wonderful prescription, which had cured bim. The druggist's trick was discovered and the patient sued him for Trend of Civilization.

I had thought that civilization meant the attainment of peace and order and freedom, of good will between man and man of the love of truth, and the hatred of injustice, and by consequence the attainment of the good life which these things breed, a life free from craven fear, but full of incident; that was what I thought it meant, not more stuffed chairs and more cushions, and more carpets and gas, and more dainty meat and drink and therewithal more and sharper difference between class and class .-William Morris.

"Shopping Headache."

A prominent physician says that 'shoppers' headache" is due to the fact that one has not eaten enough. He declares that no work is so nerve trying as shopping, and advises a good, substantial luncheon in the midst of the store hunt. Take an hour for rest and eat, thinking as little as possible of the tasks yet to be accomolished, and there will not be such a splitting headache to take home.

READ THE WRITERS OF TO-DAY. CLARK WILL American Intellectual, Life Shaped by Living Authors.

The journeymen writers write almost all that almost all Amer leans read, says Walter Page in the Atlantic. This is a fact that we love to fool ourselves about. We talk about "literature" and we talk about "hack writers," im-plying that the reading we do is of literature. The truth all the while is we read little else than the writing o the hacks-living backs, that is, men and women that write for pay. may hug the notion that our life and thought are not really affected by en rent literature, that we read the liv-ing writers only for utilitarian reasons and that our real intellectual life is fed by the great dead writers. But our hugging this delasion does not change the fact that the intellectual life even of most educated persons and certainly of the mass of the population, is fed chiefly by the writers of our own time. Let us hope that the great writers of the past do set the standards whereby a few judge the writing of the present. But, even if this be true, it is still true also that the intellectual life of the American people is chiefly shaped by current SHOWED THE PATH OF DUTY. Timely Advice That Shaped the Destinies of Great Men.

At a critical time in the life of John Wesley, when, to save his soul, he was about to retire into a remote privacy and give himself up to prayer and self-discipline, an unknown adviser, a "serious man," gave him back him: "Sir, you wish to serve God and go to Heaven. Remember, you can not serve Him alone. You must find companions or make them. The Bible knows nothing of a solltary religion." A few words spoken by a servant maid to Charles Wesley led him to step, before his long-struggling brother, into life and liberty of soul. And when Whitefield was setting out for America some wise friend said to him: "If you have a mind to convert Indians, there are colliers enough in -Kingswood." He went to the Kingswood colliers, and in his so doing the great evangelical revival in England was

Against the Marion County Officials.

OPINION OF THE COURTS

Desired in Matter of Law Governing Fee Drawing.

Actions are Result of Report Filed by Inspector E. N. Halbedel Files with the Auditor of State.

Prosecuting Attorney John H Clark will start suits in the local court of common pleas against those county officials who are charged with having drawn illegal fees during the past few years. He states, however, that these suits an opinion of the court in regard OFFICIAL NOTICE GIVEN to the various laws governing the payment of fees to county off

Several weeks ago E. N. Halbedel, an inspector from the state bureau of uniform accounting, filed a report with the auditor of state to England and humanity by saying to in which he charged practically every county official who has served within the past five years with baving drawn Illegal fees. The total amount was $13.000.

That some of the officials were entitled to the fees the prosecutor believes. Tuesday he made the following statement regarding his plans in regard to this matter.

"I have been asked a great many times since the filing of the re. port of the examination of Marion county by E. N. Halbedel, one the state examiners from bureau of inspection and supervis. ion of public offices, whether or not sults would be brought against the parties or officers alleged to have drawn illegal fees."

"I will state my position with reference to said matter;

"First, we will all have admit that there is a question as to the law governing a great many of the findings, and that probably in some cases the bureau's inter. pretation of the law is incorrect. "Second, in all cases where the Bureau is wrong, and the officials has only drawn what he was legally entitled to, if there are such cases, an injustice has been done the officials by making the impression upon the minds of the people that sold officer or officers have drawn illegal fees.

"Third, if the bureau is correct n its findings, and officers or rentles have drawn illegal fees then an injustice has been done the people if said officers or parties are not required to pay said money back into the county treas-

"The only way for us to find out who has been done the injustice is to let the courts pass upon the law governing the various findings; this being true suits will be started at once igninst all parties whom it is illegal fees, unless, of course, some of the parties, desire to voluntarily return said alleged illegal fees, which some expect to do at is a possibility that the board
